

Physical Review Focus

focus.aps.org

Editor

David Ehrenstein,
American Physical Society

Physical Review Focus is a free online service that provides brief explanations of selected research papers from Physical Review and Physical Review Letters at a level accessible to students and researchers in all fields of physics. The stories are written in the style of a news article, including color images and occasionally related videos. Each story provides a hyperlink to the abstract of the research paper featured. Focus serves as an excellent introduction to current research topics.

2009 Publication Frequency

Volumes 23, 24 (2 issues)

ISSN Online: 1539-0748

Format

Online

16 To order, call +1 516-576-2270 or e-mail subs@aps.org.