

PHYSICS TRENDS

Contact: Raymond Y. Chu
rchu@aip.org

Fall 2001

Typical Salaries for PhD Physicists Early in Their Careers, 2000

Typical salary ranges for PhDs who have worked for less than five years

FFR&DCs are Federally Funded Research and Development Centers.

Some university salaries are for a full year of work, while others are paid only for the 9 to 10 month academic year.

Source: 2000 Salary Report