Oral History Interview Agreement for Rights Holders/Heirs/Colleagues

The mission of the AIP History Programs is to preserve and make known the history of modern physics and allied fields. The Programs is part of the American Institute of Physics (AIP), a non-profit organization. In pursuit of its mission, the Center has conducted an oral history in which the person named below (as "Participant") participated as an interview or interviewer, and for which you (the "Rights Holder") claim the copyright. The purpose of this agreement is to allow the Center to make this interview available to scholars, teachers, students, and other members of the interested public; to use the contents of this interview in its exhibits, teaching modules and other publications; and to transfer the contents of this interview to other media for purposes of access and/or preservation.

This agreement does not restrict the Rights Holder's own use of this interview in any way.

The Rights Holder grants to the AIP a perpetual, irrevocable, royalty-free right to copy, distribute, publish, and to use this interview in the attached letter in any written or electronic materials, or other media or formats now existing or hereafter devised. The Rights Holder authorizes AIP to create an abstract and index for this interview, and to create and distribute derivative works in accord with its mission.
